CAPITALIZE ON OPPORTUNITY: Network and Gain Insight into Global and Regional Trends

PMA's Fresh Connections: Southern Africa Conference & Expo will help you gain insight into southern African retail, wholesale and export trends as you build business relationships with supply chain leaders.

Who should attend?

Local and global supply chain leaders throughout southern Africa are expected to attend; growers, exporters, wholesalers, retailers and input suppliers – more than 375 participated in the 2014 event.

Why attend?

The two-day event will focus on profitable connections for your business, featuring an expo with more than 30 companies, and an impressive educational program. PMA Fresh Connections: Southern Africa will help you walk away with 'big picture' implications for your business.

Why exhibit?

Participating in the Expo places your products or services in front of over 350 industry leaders and decision makers across the produce supply chain. This is the only expo that provides this level of access to audiences that can help build your business today.
